A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

The members of the American Lhasa Apso Club, Inc. elected me as their president in June of 1981 and I took office July 1 of the same year. In the following two and one half years I have traveled from coast to coast and find that there is one common complaint... "We, the members, are not allowed to have enough input into the decisions made by the governing body and are not well enough informed about the decisions that are made." Because of this common complaint I have found almost total apathy among our members and potential members—the entire Lhasa Apso fancy.

For two and one half years I have searched for ways to create a change so that Lhasa fanciers would want to become involved in "the parent club". I have written editorial after editorial inviting members to volunteer and the response has been minimal. Those who volunteered did get jobs! As I have traveled I have continued to encourage disheartened members to rejoin, hoping to get more involvement and cooperation for ALAC projects. I believe that a big problem is that we live in a very busy world and many fanciers just do not have the time to get deeply involved, however, would be happy to be responsible contributing ALAC members if they felt the club was serving well the objectives it is pledged to. I quote from the American Lhasa Apso Club, Inc. Constitution:

Section 2. The objects of the Club shall be:

(a) to encourage and promote the breeding of pure-bred Lhasa Apsos and to do all possible to bring their natural qualities to perfection;
(b) to encourage the organization of independent local Lhasa Apso Specialty Clubs in those localities where there are sufficient fanciers of the breed to meet the requirements of The American Kennel Club;
(c) to urge members and breeders to accept the standard of the breed as approved by The American Kennel Club as the only standard of excellence by which Lhasa Apsos shall be judged;
(d) to do all in its power to protect and advance the interests of the breed and to encourage sportsmanlike competition at dog shows and obedience trials;
(e) to conduct sanctioned matches, specialty shows and obedience trials under the rules of The American Kennel Club.
In order to satisfy my belief that there is a desire by the Lhasa fancy to have an active service club, I am presenting the following survey. This survey will be compiled and the results will be reported. The ideas and suggestions received will be submitted to the governing body and committee chairmen in order to develop new projects, update old projects and improve ALAC’s service to the Lhasa Apso. Idealistic...yes! Realistic...yes, but only with the involvement of those fanciers who believe in the club’s objectives. The response that I receive will help to determine just how much the fancy wants a club for ALL MEMBERS. The following survey will be used to find out the views of the entire Lhasa fancy on various aspects of the club. HERE IS YOUR CHANCE TO SPEAK OUT! HERE IS YOUR CHANCE TO BE HEARD!

Dear ALAC Member:

There are many versions of how a breed standard is to be revised, I was also confused until I obtained a copy of the following Memorandum which accompanied the Guide For Writing Breed Standards. I received these pamphlets from the American Kennel Club and am sharing their contents with you.

I do not believe that you the members have been asked whether or not you wish to make changes to the breed standard. Please read the following documents before making a decision. It is my understanding from the AKC that they would like us to conform closely to their suggestions in the Guide. In other words if we make any change they would like us to rewrite to conform to the Guide in order and format.

As your president, I pledge myself to a change in the breed standard only after a majority of the membership has voiced their desire for a change. If the majority wishes a change, then I pledge to do my utmost to make this change according to the suggestions of the AKC in their Memorandum and Guide For Writing Breed Standards.

May I remind you that my pledge is only as good as you the members make it. I have always believed that ALAC is the members and the governing body should simply be an extension of you the members. We, the governing body are willing to devote our time and efforts so if we do not please you it is because you have not devoted your time and efforts to make us understand your desires.

Very sincerely,

Carolyn A. Herbel

I submit to you the American Kennel Club’s pamphlets:
MEMORANDUM

RE: BREED STANDARDS

A breed standard is by definition a description of the ideal specimen of each breed—a word pattern by which dogs are judged at shows.

Attached is a guide that has evolved over the years, concerning the writing of breed standards. It sets forth, among other things, the order in which the physical features of the dog should probably be covered, beginning with general appearance and then physically describing the head, body, forequarters, and hindquarters, followed by sections on color, gait, size and temperament. This guide has been used in the nature of a suggestion only. We have not taken the stand that approval of any particular standard or revised standard depended on conformity with the guide. We have not suggested to any club that it should revise its standard simply to bring it in line with this guide.

On the subject of gait, we are aware of one or more current standards that may contain what is probably not an accurate description. There is undoubtedly a good bit of educational work to be done on the subject. It is hoped that articles and films on the subject that have appeared in recent years, as well as seminars and discussion groups, will help to resolve these problems. It is clearly an aspect of standards that all parent clubs should study closely.

A general problem that many clubs encounter in writing or amending a standard is that of trying to put in too much detail. Some fanciers feel that the ideal breed standard is an anatomical study which could be passed on to future generations, so that even if they never saw a specimen of the breed, they would know exactly what the dog looked like. We have taken a somewhat different position. In our view, a standard is not aimed at the person who has never seen a specimen of the breed, but instead is meant as a guide to help the person who has some familiarity with dogs in general and with the breed in particular. In its simplest form, a standard is an elementary description of a breed, pointing out certain qualities that make the breed unique and indicating certain areas with respect to the standard (or sometimes with respect to general canine soundness), where judges should be alert for problems. A certain amount of detail may be necessary, but too much detail will, among other things, be confusing, will be difficult for judges to remember, any may put unexpected emphasis on some aspect where it is not wanted. The use of too much emphasis to correct a problem may create a problem of its own.

As regards disqualifications, it cannot be overemphasized how undesirable they are. They cause problems at best, and it is urged that none at all be included unless they refer to specific problems in a breed that cannot be handled in any other way.

As a practical matter we are almost always in correspondence with a handful of national specialty clubs which have questions about their standards and how to go about amending them. A club will sometimes work with its membership for a number of years in order to come up with a first tentative revision. They then should consult with AKC on an informal basis to check on the editorial soundness of the revisions—at this point, the AKC Board of Directors would scrutinize the proposal very closely. If it seemed sound, the club would then submit the proposals to its membership for a vote. When the vote had been taken, if the amendments were adopted, it would then be submitted to AKC for publication in the GAZETTE. Then at least two months after the issue of publication, the standard would be submitted to the AKC Board of Directors, along with any correspondence which had been elicited by publication, for a formal approval or disapproval. If the Board gave its O.K., the new standard would be published in the next issue of the GAZETTE as approved, and AKC would distribute it to all persons eligible to judge it at shows.

We think that some of the best advice to be given about amending breed standards is:

All change is not progress.

We suggest that you look over this memorandum and then contact us with any inquiries you might have.

THE AMERICAN KENNEL CLUB

November 1, 1980
GUIDE FOR WRITING: BREED STANDARDS

1. The dog should be described in positive terms depicting the various parts of the ideal specimen of the breed. If verbs are used, they should be in the present tense, ("is" or "are" rather than "should be") but for the sake of brevity it is recommended that when possible, verbs be omitted altogether in writing the positive description of the ideal dog. If any quality is of particular importance in a breed, it should be so designated and emphasized in the wording of the positive description.

2. If faults are to be listed and described, such descriptions should be included in the appropriate sections in the body of the standard. However, the standard should list only such faults as are peculiar to the breed, and should not attempt to list faults which are obvious from the positive description of the dog. For instance, if the positive description reads "topline straight and level" it is generally unnecessary to state that a "roach back or sway back is a fault." If the positive description specifies "hind legs straight as viewed from behind" it is generally not necessary to mention that "cowhocks are a fault." A standard that attempts to list all of the more common faults can be misleading because the omission of any bad feature from a long list of faults could be interpreted as indicating that the particular feature should not be considered a fault.

3. All words used in the standard should have the same meaning ascribed to them in the Glossary in THE COMPLETE DOG BOOK.

4. Disqualifying faults should be listed in the appropriate sections in the body of the standard. AKC will summarize such faults in italics at the end of the standard in THE COMPLETE DOG BOOK. It should be borne in mind, however, that disqualifications are not desirable. They cause problems at best, and we urge that none be included unless they refer to a specific problem in the breed as a whole that cannot be handled in any other way. Faults requiring disqualification under AKC rules should not be listed in the standard.

5. If a disqualifying height is provided, there should be a difference of one-half inch to one inch, depending on the size of the dog, between the ideal height and the disqualifying height, and a dog measuring in this twilight area should be described as faulty. The American Kennel Club will approve a minimum height disqualification only if it applies to puppies as well as grown dogs.

6. In describing the bite, the standard should refer to the position of the teeth rather than of the jaws, since it is the teeth which the judge will examine and on which he will make his decision.

7. The standard should specify whether tails may be, should be, or should not be, docked; whether dewclaws may be, are generally, should be, or should not be, removed, distinguishing between dewclaws on the forelegs and those on the hind legs in each case; and for those breeds of which the ears are usually or sometimes cropped, whether the ears may be cropped. This is necessary so that the application of Chapter 15, Section 9 of the Dog Show Rules to the particular breed will be clear. This section requires disqualification of any dog that has been changed in appearance by artificial, means except as specified in the standard for its breed.

8. It is not recommended that viciousness be made a disqualification unless this is a serious problem in the breed. However, it should be borne in mind that even when there is no disqualification, a judge is expected to dismiss forthwith from the ring any dog that shows any sign of viciousness. In other words, it is not enough to say that viciousness is “undesirable.” If viciousness is to be mentioned, without making it a disqualification, the standard should specify that the judge shall dismiss any vicious dog from the ring.

9. There should be no scale of points as judges cannot be expected to memorize such scales, and because such scales can never be set up to provide for proper evaluation of a dog that is unusually faulty in one feature and unusually sound in all other respects.

10. The standard should be arranged in the following order and under the major headings and sub-headings listed below. Each major heading will represent a paragraph in THE COMPLETE DOG BOOK, and each paragraph will include the sub-headings in italics. It is not necessary that all of the listed sub-headings be used, and additional sub-headings may be used in appropriate cases.

(a) GENERAL APPEARANCE. Include only features that are to be judged in the show ring.
(b) HEAD. Skull, Muzzle, Stop, Nose, Teeth, Eyes (including color of eyes), Ears, Lips, Flews, Dewlap.
(c) NECK AND BODY. Neck, Topline, Chest, Ribs, Loin, Croup, Tail.
(d) FOREQUARTERS. Shoulders, Legs, Pasterns, Feet, Nails, Dewclaws.
(e) HINDQUARTERS. Thighs, Stifles, Hocks, Metatarsus, Feet, Nails, Dewclaws.
(f) COAT. Include under this heading the description of the hair on all parts of the dog, and describe any standard trimming of the coat.
(g) COLOR. Include under this heading the color and markings of the coat (and the skin under coat if skin color is to be included in the standard). Color of eyes and eye-rims, mouth and lips, nose, nails, etc., should be included under the appropriate sections.
(h) GAIT.
(i) SIZE. Should be described in inches “at the highest point of the shoulder blades” rather than in pounds, except in a few breeds in which weight is also significant.
(j) TEMPERAMENT.

November 1, 1980
Dear ALAC Members,

This letter is both an appeal and an apology to the members of ALAC. To those of you who have had a problem with membership in the past, I offer my apology. We have worked very hard in 1983 attempting to get everyone’s membership information correct. My only excuse is the sheer geographical difficulty of coordination between New Jersey, Washington, and Texas. If there is anyone who still has a problem, please let us know so it can be corrected. New members during 1983 should have received a membership packet from me. If you have not received yours, please send me the information so we can discover what went wrong.

The appeal is for all of you to help me bring in new members and rebuild our membership. Quite frankly, our membership is HURTING. If I can ask each one of you to please add at least ONE new member, our membership will DOUBLE. Now see how easy that is. I am sure that all of you know at least ONE person who is interested in the Lhasa Apso, whether it be someone who has bought a puppy from you or just a friend who loves LHASA APSOS. You know, owning a Lhasa is not a membership requirement. All that is required is a genuine interest in and love for the breed. Invite ALL these people to join.

We have all heard the people who complain about this or that being wrong with the standard of the breed. Well, folks, just explain to them that if they want a voice that will be heard, the ONLY way to do it is through ALAC because only members of ALAC HAVE a voice when voting time rolls around. Explain the benefits of being a member of ALAC. Explain the pride we feel for our club and our breed. Explain the excitement of participating in a NATIONAL SPECIALITY made up of several hundred entries of this marvelous little dog from all parts of the country.

I will no believe there are so FEW of us who appreciate this wonderful Lhasa Apso in this country and abroad. It is time for all of us to stand up and be counted and to do our part in creating enthusiasm for the LHASA APSO. That’s what it is all about, folks. Won’t you please help by bringing in many, many new members?

Sincerely,

Kay Hales
Membership Chairman
ALAC and OPEN COMMUNICATION

Communication, secret, and trust do have some common denominators which could apply to the ALAC. Defined, communication indicates intercourse which takes place by speech, correspondence, or messages involving information. Secret may be denoted as a governing principle known only to the initiated. Trust implies implicit faith. These three ingredients—communication, secret, and trust—are very important if ALAC is to be a viable, living, growing group devoted to our beloved Lhasa Apsos.

Someone is probably commenting "What does this have to do with me?" Plenty.

Those of us who attended the National Specialty in Kansas City during May 1983, were constantly hearing that the Board was again meeting in SECRET! Now we all know that secret meetings stir up rumors galore. Rumors were flying all over the place.

Now word comes that a secret BOARD meeting, all outsiders unwelcome, is to be held at Bobbi Woods in February. The information has been disseminated that this meeting will deal with the Standard which a small group of Board members is about to extend to the AKC. Clandestine meetings, whether or not they occur, do give rise to rumors which may be true, may be half-truths, or may be false. Thus, there appears to be an inadequate method communicating to ALAC members, even to the officers, of what is going on in these board meetings.

Clandestine meetings also imply a lack of confidence in the membership on the whole. Having met a great many ALAC members or having communicated with them, the impression has been gained that on the whole the ALAC members are well-educated, honest, and dedicated to the best for our Lhasas. For this reason, they should be trusted to make adequate judgments concerning the Standard for our beloved breed.

Since there are very definite differences of opinions concerning the Standard, it would seem that some open communication would be viable at this point. There are a number of ways with which this could be coped. A two-fold approach might be best.

First, board members and others concerned with the Standard could prepare brief and concise statements about that aspect or a limited number of aspects with which each is concerned. These could be combined into a treatise with an addendum of questions to be answered by the recipients and then correlated into a response which could be considered by an appointed committee.
Secondly, board members, officers, and committee chairmen could attend independent Lhasa club meetings and communicate their ideas.

Among so many interested breeders and fanciers it is conceivable that reasonable approaches to and compromises with the various components could be achieved.

Open and honest communication and trust in others are needed to make ALAC a viable and strong force. The alternatives may not be very palatable: a board with no club members; rebellion; or a second national club. Rumors have been surfacing. These things have happened to other clubs.

Thus, it would seem that open communication between the board, the officers, and the members is vital. There is a large, "secret" group of fanciers and breeders initiated with an understanding of Lhasas who should be given an opportunity to contribute. Moreover, each of us must trust that others, too, have the best for our Lhasas at heart.

RE: Chronological Order of Action Regarding the Standards Committee and Associated Events

1. At the Chicago International Kennel Club 1982 Show, Mr. William Stifel President of The American Kennel Club spoke to me regarding the Lhasa Apso Standard. He felt it needed clarifying and suggested we consider adding a statement regarding gait and topline.

Mr. Stifel indicated this could be done as an "addendum". Although such change would not require the lengthy process AKC outlines in its Guide for Standard Revision. I told him I would try.

2. I submitted a draft proposal to this effect which was read at the June 1982 ALAC Board Meeting in Seattle, Wa. President Carolyn Herbel appointed me Chairman of a Standards Committee and I received Board approval to draft the statements on gait and topline. (See Board Minutes 6/82).

3. In the fall of 1982 the ALAC Secretary mailed a copy of my proposed addendum to the Officers and Board requesting they study the wording and indicate either approval or disapproval of the drafted statements.

The Board did not approve the draft and the Secretary returned their comments to me.

4. The question of this addendum was put on the agenda for the Kansas City Board Meeting scheduled for May 1983. During this meeting I was called on to give my report. I outlined the events that had taken place to date and asked the Board for further input. Lengthy discussion followed with input from the floor as well as from the Board. It became apparent that any discussion of the standard was going to be lengthy. In view of the Board's long agenda, I moved that the subject be tabled and dealt with in a special meeting which I requested take place before Sunday. This was seconded and approved.

Another Board member moved that this special meeting be a closed door meeting for Board Members only and that we entertain any suggestions from the general membership offered in writing that they wished to make. This motion was seconded; all approved. (Minutes 5-11-83).

All members in attendance at this Board meeting were told that if anything was accomplished in this planned special meeting it would be announced at the Annual Meeting.

4. The Board reconvened at 9:30 a.m. on 5-13-83 in closed session. Carolyn Herbel opened the meeting and several topics remaining on the agenda were discussed including the AKC Three-Phase Program of Education and ALAC Committee Chairmen. The meeting was then turned over to me and discussion on the standard followed. I requested those present to serve as my temporary committee and asked that everyone remain for a Standard Committee meeting to follow. The Board Meeting was then adjourned.
5. Continued.
The Committee met and began with a discussion of the original draft I had proposed, dealing with gait and topline. Eventu-tally it led us to a point-by-point consideration of the current standard. The committee worked long and hard, and eventually put their conclusions into a carefully worded draft of changes. It was felt this would serve as a beginning to a more extensive consideration of standard change than that originally suggested by Mr. Stifel as an addendum.

6. When the Committee reached the end of their work they discussed the Secretary's ability to put the draft into final written form in time to be read at the Annual Meeting. Since the wording was critical, it was decided by split majority vote to hold off public announcement until each committee member had been given opportunity to read the draft carefully and give final approval. Those so voting against announcement were anxious lest errors or misunderstanding be created when the draft was made public.

The committee then unanimously agreed that no discussion of their work would be made public until this final approval of the draft - in writing - had been given.

7. In all fairness, I would like to say that several committee members persisted in their belief that the draft be read at the Annual Meeting, and the committee was re-polled just prior to the dinner by the President. The majority held.

8. The ALAC Secretary forwarded a copy of this draft to each of the Board members and it was corrected and approved on 6-20-83.

Following approval of the draft, I contacted Mr. Mark Mooty,
Secretary of AKC, for opinion on the work that had been done.
He reviewed it briefly and made a specific recommendation of deletion which I then took back to committee. This deletion was approved on 8-8-83.

9. Mr. Mooty asked that I stay in touch and that a written copy of the draft be sent to him. I requested the ALAC Secretary forward a copy which was done. She asked Mr. Mooty's opinion on the clarity and contents of the draft and specifically, his thoughts on the general intent of a particular statement seemingly altered by his recommendation of deletion.

From August on, several members, deeply concerned about this problem created by the deletion, requested a Board Meeting be scheduled in conjunction with Westminster in February, hoping to resolve phraseology. This meeting was approved 11-20-83 and the question of the standard was put on the agenda.

10. More recently, the ALAC Secretary contacted me regarding receipt of a copy of a letter addressed to President Carolyn Herbel from Mr. Mooty. His letter confirmed a telephone conversation he had with her but gives no indication of details. Mr. Mooty recommended we review the AKC Guidelines on Standard Change. His letter is dated 10-13-83.
11. President Carolyn Herbel requested Board approval of a standards committee. She proposed I continue to serve as Chairman and submitted four names for consideration of Board approval, as committee members.

The Board disapproved this recommendation on 12-20-83.

12. I would like to comment on the Board's disapproval of this last motion. There was not preliminary discussion or notice of this request and I was not aware of the proposal until I received the ballot. I know the Board looked forward to serious consideration and selection of a standards committee and I know too, that they felt strongly about resolving the phraseology question before publishing their draft. It has always been assumed that the question of a standard change would ultimately rest with a formally named committee, once the question of a simple addendum was voted down. The idea of more extensive standard change ultimately must rest with a committee, and finally with the general ALAC membership. If there is decision to pursue this process, it is a lengthy one at best, and demands full sharing of thoughts, ideas, and opinions.

The Board's intent and work was a good beginning to such potential process.

HEAD TO HOUSTON IN 1984

ALAC NATIONAL SPECIALTY

WELCOME

Head to Houston in August '84. Combine dog shows and a vacation in sunny Texas for an experience that will last a lifetime. The Houston area offers professional baseball games, the NASA Space Center, and the Astroworld Amusement Park, just to mention a few. Within 1 hour's drive are the Gulf Coast beaches of Galveston. And don't forget Gilley's, the country/western nightclub that made the mechanical bull famous, just minutes away in Pasadena.

The '84 National Specialty Week kicks off on Monday, August 6, with the ALAC annual meeting and awards banquet. Tuesday brings the seminar, followed by a poolside luau and raffle. The 1984 ALAC National Specialty Show and Obedience Trial and the ALAC Futurity will be held Wednesday, August 8. Site of these events will be the spacious Ramada Inn Northwest Crossing. Thursday brings you to the most fabulous show site ever—the Astrohall—where the Lhasa Apso Club of Greater Houston, Inc. will hold its specialty. Friday, Saturday, and Sunday finish the week off with the Houston KC, Baytown KC, and San Jacinto KC All-Breed Shows.

So kick up your heels and make plans now for an exciting fun filled week in Texas!

FACILITIES

The Ramada Inn Northwest Crossing Hotel will be the site for all events held Monday, August 6 through Wednesday, August 8, 1984. The hotel is most gracious and accommodating and the facilities are superb with ample ring and grooming area. Guest rooms are spacious and contain one or two queen size beds. Rates are $40.00 per room, any number of occupants. The hotel will provide parking for motor homes, however there will be no hook-ups. A brochure on the hotel can be found attached to these materials.

The Astrohall is possibly the most famous of all show sites. Six acres, air conditioned under one roof, allows the ultimate in accommodations for the dog show enthusiast. Only 15 minutes from the Ramada Inn Northwest Crossing allows the exhibitor to stay in one hotel and attend 5 shows, just minutes away.
