Many, many thank to Judge Frank Oberstar (pictured on cover) and all the other judges who have made 1989 such a glorious year for our very special boy! We are very proud and thankful to have the opportunity to own such a delightful Lhasa!

President’s message
February 1990
Dear Friends,

The first dog show of the new year gave me cause to reflect on the special nature of the dog fancy. Often, we become so engrossed in the ribbon chase, that we fail to be thankful for what we have or to appreciate what we are able to contribute to others.

As I was maneuvering my van into the loading zone at the show, I stopped for a motorized wheelchair to cross the drive. It took me a few seconds to notice that the occupant of the wheelchair was leading a Belgian Turveren to the exercise area. My thoughts turned to the increasing number of persons with varying disabilities participating in dog shows. Later, waiting ringside with my Pekingese, I was visited by a woman leading a gray-haired autistic companion. The latter woman kept her face covered with one hand while clutching her guardian’s sleeve with the other. She snatched peeks at the dogs between her fingers, daring occasionally to take a step closer, but retreating immediately. Finally, when I picked up my dog so she could see him better, she uncovered her face for a split second, gave me a big smile, then buried her head in her companion’s sleeve.

Both incidents left me feeling warm and thankful. They all reminded me that participating and enjoying the dogs frequently are lost in the pursuit for more and bigger wins. Let’s keep our perspective and our priorities straight. Have a good year and give some good to others.

Sincerely,
Cassandra de la Rosa

Veterinary Applications of Non-Prescription Medications
by Louis Thompson, M.S., R.Ph.

This is the first of a series of three articles which attempt to provide the dog-owning public with an overview of the medicinal products available at your local pharmacy, in the “over-the-counter” or non-prescription category. It is by no means a detailed accounting, but simply a guideline for general use. Your local pharmacist is still the best source of comprehensive information on these matters. Check with him/her for questions or price or quality of products.

PART I: TOPICAL PREPARATIONS

ANTI-INFECTIVES - There are a wide variety of both single entity and multiple chemical products available in this category to treat infections of the skin, mucous membranes, and underlying soft tissue. Probably the most well known is the group referred to as the “triple antibiotic” class. These ointments and creams contain three different antibiotics to provide a broad spectrum of coverage against the most common skin bacteria. Brand name examples include Neosporin®, Mycelex® and Neopolycin®. The same combination is sold in the generic form, with the cost being only 1/3 to 1/2 of the brand name price. In addition there are single antibiotic preparations that are very effective against particular micro-organisms; for example, the drug known as bacitracin is quite effective in curing skin infections caused by Staphylococcus bacteria. This is the organism often responsible for skin abscesses and “hot spots”.

Besides the antibiotics, there are a number of disinfecting agents available. Probably the two most widely used in veterinary practice are povidone-iodine (Betadine®) and chlorhexidine (Novaxan®). Povidone-iodine can also be purchased in the generic form, again at a considerable savings. It is available in a solution, ointment, spray, and a surgical scrub soap. Chlorhexidine can be found under the name of Hibiclens®, - bottles of 4, 16, and 32 ounces.

Most of the topical anti-fungal agents will be found in the foot care section of your pharmacy, there to treat athlete’s foot or jock itch. However, these preparations will work very effectively on a variety of canine fungal infections. The two compounds that are the most effective and widely used are trolaftate (Tinactin®) or its generic form and miconazole (Micatin®). The most important thing to remember when treating a fungal infection is that it may take from 3-12 weeks of proper therapy to cure the infection, so be patient and continue therapy.

TOPICAL ANTI-INFLAMMATORY AGENTS - The most commonly used member of this class of medication is hydrocortisone. This drug is available in creams, ointments, sprays, lotions, and aerosols, and goes under the trade names of Cort-Aid®, Caldecore®, Cortizone 5®, and many others, as well as a full line of generic equivalents at a reduced cost. The only strength available for non-prescription use is 0.5%, but this is usually effective when applied 2-4 times daily. Relief from irritation and swelling can often be seen in as little as 2 applications. Do not use these steroid products on obviously infected tissue because the steroids will inhibit the healing process. A combination product very similar to the veterinary preparations known as Panalog® can be created by combining one of the hydrocortisone creams with a triple antibiotic cream and a topical anti-fungal cream. In fact, if generic equivalents are used, a preparation of these ingredients, at a cost of under $10.00, could provide the same coverage as an amount of Panalog® costing $25.00 or more.

A group of drugs that provide a similar measure of relief from irritation are the topical anesthetic agents. Their action is to numb the irritated tissue, thereby stopping the dog from continuing to chew or lick inflamed tissue. This treatment should not be used for long periods of time, or in the place of proper anti-microbial therapy. It should only be thought of as an adjunct therapy, designed to relieve the patient of excessive discomfort. Examples of such agents found on most OTC pharmacy counters are Xylocaine Jelly 2%, Lanacane®, Lanacort® (which also contains hydrocortisone), and Nupercainal® (yes, the hemorrhoid preparation). In emergencies, even the sore throat sprays such as Chloraseptic® ill provide some temporary relief. Some of the toothache preparations also contain local anesthetics, but are usually weaker than the other topical products mentioned.

TOPICAL PEDILOCIDES - Over-the-counter preparations that are used in the treatment of head and body lice contain the same insecticides in the same concentrations as most commercially available flea and tick shampoos. Many of these lice-killing products are also packaged in the generic form, providing a less expensive alternative. Some of these products are also manufactured in a cream or ointment, and are often effective in the treatment of ear mites. When mixed in equal proportions with a hydrocortisone cream, they provide soothing relief from the itch and excellent control of the mites, at a fraction of the cost of Mitox®. The aerosol forms also contain the same ingredients as regular flea and tick foggers. However, they do not contain any chemical to control the pre-emergent form of the flea.

This series of three (3) articles was prompted by fifteen years of questions by friends and fellow exhibitors in the "whys" and "whatfores" of drug therapy in their dogs. Oral presentation of this article has been made to local dog clubs, with lots of positive feedback.

REGULATION CHANGES

A new Utility class point schedule will become effective January 1, 1990. The change was deemed necessary as on that date Utility will be divided into A and B divisions at all trials. This change affects only the Utility Point schedule. It reduces the number of dogs that are counted as being in competition when computing OTCH points.

MOVING STAND

The judge will no longer give the order "About Turn", and "Halt". The handler will, after being ordered to "Stand your Dog," continue 10-12 feet and turn either left or right and halt facing his dog. This is the only change.

The handler is responsible for determining the distance and making the turn. Most problems associated with the change will be eliminated as handlers gain experience. The change requires the Utility handler to estimate a distance in the same fashion that the Novice handler estimate about 6 feet when leaving the dog in the Stand for Examination exercise.

When I first heard of this change, my first reaction was "It must be some judge who has trouble with ordering "About Turn, Halt" as the handler reaches the proper position. However, reflection back to my own judging I recalled how difficult it is to get handlers to follow direction.

The member will receive a plaque the year the 10th champion is confirmed in the AKC Gazette. To qualify for this award, the breeder must submit a list of champions bred along with the month and year of AKC Gazette confirmation to the Awards Chairman. If a breeder qualified prior to the current award year he may submit the information and will receive the Register status but not plaque will be offered unless the breeder wishes to purchase one for $12.00 payable in ADVANCE.

Stud Register of Merit: A plaque will be presented to any ALAC member whose Lhasa Apso male has sired five (5) champions. Top Twenty Register of Merit Sire and Dam Listing: There will be a Top Twenty ROM Listing whereby each year the top 20 ROM sires and top 20 ROM dams will be listed. In order for the list to be accurate for the current year, owners should submit a listing of additional champion get sires and dams to the Awards Chairman, including month of AKC Gazette confirmation.

Points are awarded on the following basis: Group 1st - 4 points, Group 2 - 3 points, Group 3 - 2 points, Group 4 - 1 point. The Awards Chairman keeps the record and the Lhasa Apso who accumulates the most points receives the award. A separate award is given to the top dog and the top bitch who has accumulated ten (10) or more group placements.

Best in Show: One award is presented to the dog or bitch owned by an ALAC member winning the most Best In Shows for the award year.

Instructions for Obtaining
A Limited Registration Certificate

In an issues survey undertaken in 1986, 79.9 percent of the delegates and 83.6 percent of GAZETTE readers who responded agreed or strongly agreed with the statement, "AKC should provide a not-for-breeding form of registration." This response initiated the process of establishing a limited registration option to serve as another choice for breeders who wish to limit the breeding of a dog but do not wish to sell their dogs without papers or who do not want to have their dogs neutered or spayed, through they will be ineligible to compete in a licensed or member show.

At the June 1989 delegates' meeting, the limited registration option was formally approved. It will be numbered Section 4A of Chapter 3 of the Rules Applying to Registration and Dog Shows, and will be added to the field trial rules for Bassets, Beagles, Dachshunds, Retrievers, Spaniels and Pointing Breeds. Dog with a limited registration can participate in obedience trials, tracking tests, hunting tests and field trials. The following instructions are for obtaining a limited registration certificate:

Effective January 1, 1990, there will be a change in Section A of the reverse side of each registration application form issued. At present, there are two boxes which can be checked in Section A of each application. Effective January 1, there will be three boxes appearing in Section A (see illustration).

In order to obtain a limited registration certificate, the litter owners would check Box #1 in Section A of the registration application form and all litter owners would be required to sign Section A. No other information should be completed on the reverse side of the application. On the face of the application, a name choice as well as the sex and color of the dog should be indicated. The application should then be submitted with the required registration fee of $6. The applications should be submitted to the attention of Department L at AKC.

The litter owners will then receive a limited registration certificate (see illustration). The certificate will clearly state "Offspring of this dog not eligible for registration." The certificate will differ from the present certificate in that it will have an orange border rather than a purplle border.

If the dog is sold or given away, the reverse side of the certificate would be completed by the owner(s) in Section A indicating the particulars of transfer to the new owner. The new owner would complete and sign Section B and submit the certificate with the required transfer fee of $6. The dog will continue to carry limited registration regardless of the number of times the dog is transferred.

If you have a dog that you wish to have granted a limited registration certificate and for which the application was issued prior to January 1, 1990 (if you have an application without the appropriate box for limited registration designation), you may exchange the application at no charge for a period of six months. Simply submit the application with a note requesting that a new application be issued. The application should be sent to the AKC, attention Department L. However, after July 1, 1990, any request to exchange applications must be accompanied by a fee of $6.

As stated above, once a dog is registered with the limited registration, the dog will continue to carry the limited restriction regardless of the number of times the dog is transferred. The registration status can only be changed from limited to non-limited if all the litter owner(s) agree. A special form will be provided by the AKC to be completed by the litter owner(s) as well as the present owners for this purpose. A fee will be charged to change the registration status of the dog at that time.

If a dog is registered without restriction, and if at a later date the owner, who was not the litter owner, decides that the dog in question should not be bred, the dog's status cannot be changed to a limited registration. However, the owner would have the option of selling the dog either without papers or under a spay/neuter agreement.

And Keep in Mind

It cannot be emphasized too strongly that the decision of whether or not the dog will be sold with a limited registration should be made prior to the time the dog is sold. That way the litter owner will have the limited certificate available for the purchaser at the time of sale. If, for some reason, the certificate is not available at the time of negotiating the sale, the litter owner should clearly advise the buyer or the recipient that the dog must first be registered in the litter owner's name and that the buyer will then be furnished with a limited registration certificate. The sale should not be consummated until the limited certificate is available.

Any correspondence or applications in connection with the limited registration should be sent to the attention of Department L at AKC.

The offspring of a dog registered with a limited registration certificate are not eligible for AKC registration. Therefore, if you intend to register the offspring of a mating between your dog and another dog of the same breed, it is incumbent on you to be certain that the dog is registered with full registration privileges and that the person who represents himself to you as the owner of the dog is the actual owner of record. The only way to determine this is to demand to see the actual registration certificate for the dog before a mating takes place.

The person who represents himself as the owner of the dog should be named as the owner on the face of the registration certificate. If the dog is not yet registered or transferred, or if the owner is not able to present to you the actual registration certificate, do not breed to this dog. Do not accept a pedigree as proof that the dog is registered or eligible for registration or that its offspring can be registered.

A dog registered with an AKC limited registration shall not be eligible to be entered in a breed competition in a licensed or member dog show. It is eligible, however, to be entered in any other licensed or member event.

A full AKC registration certificate is white with a purple border. The limited registration certificate is white with an orange border.
