• Please note! Ken Troy will follow up on Bulletins not received. If yours has not come, please contact him.

• Change of address should also be sent to Ken who has taken over for Steve Campbell as new Roster Chairman. This Roster is used for all official ALAC mailings, including the Bulletin. Corrections and updates are important if you want to continue receiving ALAC material.

• The ALAC Dues notice is out. Don’t forget to send Carolyn your check now! Foreign members, please note that the membership fee has been raised to $10 over US membership (originally $5 more).

• Many Bulletin ads are still coming in without return postage included. Please note Pg. 48 of June-July Issue for explicit instructions on submittal. Advertisers who remembered to include postage and followed instructions are blue-ribbon winners and we thank you – keep up the good work! Those who forgot may end up disqualified one of these days! Its costing over $12 per issue for mailers and postage; that’s in excess of $72 per year of ALAC money that is really advertisers’ responsibility! We do thank you for your cooperation.

FROM THE PRESIDENT

Dear ALAC Member:

This is my last message. It's time to welcome Larry Bruton and wish him the best. I have enjoyed serving as ALAC President, working, talking and interacting for the past three years with many members and committees. I am thrilled that we have a National Breed Rescue in place and will continue to work for its continued growth and ultimate success.

I want to thank the Show Committee for putting on a wonderful Specialty and a special thanks to Bill and Sharon Russett for all their work.

Welcome new Board members - best of luck. A thank you to the retiring Board members for their time and effort. We always must remember that the volunteers who devote their time, pay their own way and diligently work for ALAC are quick to be criticized but should also get a well deserved THANK YOU. I plan to continue as Show Chairman as long as the Board agrees and will continue to serve ALAC to the best of my ability.

Very truly yours,

Stephen G. C. Campbell, President

FROM THE SECRETARY

Dear ALAC Member:

After completing over ten pages of minutes, numerous letters, written follow-ups, and general mailing ballots, I'm amazed not to be written out. Though the minutes have not been officially approved, there are many highlights from the Board and annual meetings to reveal to you:

- In response to a mandate and petition presented by about 88 members, the Board voted unanimously to create a new Judges Education Committee (JEComm) and restructure the current Breed Standard Committee. As with many other parent clubs, ALAC has an AKC-required Judges Education Coordinator (JEC), Norman Herbel, who has served ALAC's judges educational needs for 8 years. The Board by this time has sent out a general membership mailing, inviting interested members to submit such request and a resume to the Secretary. Until the new committees are assembled, Norman Herbel will continue to serve in his current capacity and chairman of both.

- AKC will be offering various services on the Internet as of September 1995.

- The By Laws revision did not pass the 2/3rds majority as required by the Constitution. The committee will consider member comments and present a new revision soon.

- The Board will encourage members to contribute to the Bulletin which will affect the breed in positive ways. A disclaimer will appear at the end of each article, editorial, and letter published in the Bulletin.

- A ballot concerning the Futurity format will be sent to the membership. Grand Futurity judging under a 3-judge-panel, retaining the 6 regional competitions, and splitting the Grand award between Best Adult and Best Puppy will be featured.

- The new ALAC Handbook is out. Future revisions/addendums will be mailed with the Bulletin. If you have not received your updated handbook, please contact Jenny Drastura or myself.

- As of January 1995, AKC will institute a new format for Parent Club Approval, sending a list to

ALAC UPDATE

Parent Club Secretaries with the names and dates of clubs who have applied for specialties. It will be up to the secretary to notify AKC only if a particular club is NOT approved for their submitted date. This new format will eliminate the need for regional clubs to apply directly to the Secretary for parent club approval and the $10 fee.

- ONLY ONE ALAC SPONSORED BOW PLAQUE PER YEAR WILL BE ISSUED TO REGIONAL CLUBS. Local Club Liaison Chairman Michael Santora has reported he is still dealing with a few regional clubs who insist (sometimes rudely) their club gets one per show. Any regional club who may have received more than one per year at one time was lucky but must realize this was oversight. Any regional club wishing to continue to take issue with this situation must contact the Secretary in writing. Mike has been instructed to refer such inquiries directly to the Secretary.

- A ballot will be mailed to the general members asking their approval or disapproval of the Measurement Certification Program continuing as an ALAC sanctioned committee.

- Dues for foreign members will be increased $10.00 to defray increased mailing costs.

- The ALAC Breed Rescue committee is going great guns, with forms, criteria, networking, and funding well underway. Mary Schroeder is the Chair.

- National Specialty pre-premium information and two thirds of National Specialty Judges Selection process will be handled through in the Bulletin from now on. Check your bulletin for details and deadlines.

- A CPA accounting firm will handle ballot tallying for all future ALAC elections. The firm will be selected by the Board prior to the start of the election process.

- From the National Specialty Lhasa Games and Raffle, 30% of the proceeds will go to Breed Rescue and 10% will go to the Benitez/Wilks fund. This will be a permanent annual practice.

- Joan and Stephen Karger (Swampscott, MA) were sent $300 from the Benitez/Wilks fund for assistance after suffering a fire in their home. Their dogs are fine.

- Keke Kahn was selected to judge the 1997 National Specialty.

The motions the Board handled by mail since February 1994 meeting were all concerning the election. There were several other pertinent items but they will be reflected in the minutes. I wish you all well. Faithfulness to the Breed and ALAC

Amy Andrews, Secretary

AWARDS

Bobbie Wood. The 1994 Award plaques were distributed at the National in Cleveland. I trust everyone was pleased with the new design. I have tried to take care of some of the problems from past years’ awards. If you haven’t received a plaque due to you, please write me with the dog’s name, owner, date finished, and date of Gazette publication, along with $4.00 to cover postage & handling and I will make sure you get your plaque.

The price of extra plaques has not increased since the awards program began. I am sorry to advise that it is time for the cost of extra plaques to match what we are paying for them. Therefore, starting in 1996, the cost of small plaques will be $14.00 and the large plaques $18.00. This is necessary and I appreciate your support on this issue.

There are a few corrections in the eligibility of awards. To receive a ROM in Obedience, it takes only three (3) obedience titles to qualify, not ten (10). Also, in order to keep the top 20 sires and dams list up to date, please keep records on your dogs, submit changes in status for the awards year to me. This would be a great help in keeping this tradition going.

You may start sending your award form as soon as the new year starts. I realize that the dogs that finish in the last 3 months of the year will be published in the Gazettes of January, February and March. If your form has already been submitted, I can just check it against AKC Gazette records when they arrive. Next year we must adhere to the April 1 deadline for both forms and photos. Remember, one award per form please, and if there is a special way you want your plaque arranged, please make this clear in words and drawings.

The new video Awards format instituted by Larry appears to be a great success with all National attendees. This new video presentation which ends up in ALAC's historian library is something to think about when finishing a dog in the coming year. Save your favorite photo for the Awards Presentation and when you send your Awards Form to me, send on the photo and $3.00 to Larry Bruton. Don't forget to mark the photo with dog's name and award designation. We need you help to make this program fun for all; seeing the dogs is really a treat for everyone.

A big thank you to all the other regional winners for coming to the National and competing.

I would like to apologize to Bev Drake. I think her dog's name was misspelled everywhere it was in print - Bev, I'm truly sorry for the spelling errors of Misti Acres Sand Dollar.

I would each ALAC member receiving their ballot on the Futurity procedure in the future, will take the time to vote. this is your show(s). The only way I have of knowing what the membership wants is by your voice. Please let me hear from you by your vote.

National Specialty Trial 1995

The National Specialty has once more come and gone and the obedience entry this year may have been the largest ever in the history of obedience at the National. We had an outstanding entry of 28 including two teams. Dogs and Exhibitors came by plane from Southern California and Washington, by van and car from North Carolina, Florida, Pennsylvania, Michigan and New Jersey. We came with our obedience Lhasas to enjoy the sport, to compare training tips, to help others with training problems but most of all to have a good time and to show off our obedience Lhasas.

Our Obedience judge was Linda MacDonald and she proved to be a very pleasant and knowledgeable judge. Her first challenge as she walked into the room was the large square pole in the middle of the ring which the high jump and the bar jump would have to be placed on either side of. Linda then proceeded to get on her knees and set up the jumps from the dogs point of view. The Obedience Tail started right on time at 8:30 AM with the Utility class. Linda had told the exhibitors the ring was lucky and for my bitch Mercedes it certainly was.

There were two Utility A dogs. Ch. Joy Marlo Mercedes CDX owned by Deanne Maxwell and Lynn Lowy. The other Utility A dog was Gizmo Ziuco CDX owned by Elaine Mayowski. There was one Utility B dog Squires Hopsing UD owned by Evette Squires. The first place Utility Dog with a score of 184 was Ch. Joy Marlo Mercedes CDX.

The Open B class had an entry of five Lhasas; Joy’s Black in Fashion CDX owner D Maxwell, Squires Hopsing UD owner E. Squires, San Can Roo owner Diane Goodspeed, Ch. Joy Marlo Mercedes CDX owner D. Maxwell & L Lowy and Gizmo Ziuco CDX owner E. Mayowski. First place in Open B went to Ch. Joy Marlo Mercedes CDX with a score of 188. In the Open A Class was Liza The Impossible Dream owned by Doris Kelsey. The second dog was Whooer’s Whopper CD owned by Becky Hughes. There were no qualifiers in Open A.

There were also five entered in Novice B class; Chip Chippewa Rupert owned by Nancy and David Yost, Joy’s Secret Sauce Angle owned by Amy Moore, Joymarc No Strings Attached owned by Helen Adlano, Mysta’s Gift of the Magi owned by Patricia and Ami Temarantz and Joy’s
The Versatility class was represented by three Lhasas, Squires Hopsing UD, Ch. Joy Mario Mercedes CDX and Gizmo Ziuco CDX, who came to Ohio to show in obedience and they were entered in every class they were eligible to show in. All the Lhasas did well but as I said when I started this article “The ring was lucky for Mercedes” as Ch. Joy Mario Mercedes CDX was first in Versatility with a score of 183.

There were three Brace Teams entered; Joy’s Secret Agent Man and Ch. Joy Mario Mercedes CDX owned by D. Maxwell, Squires Hopsing UD and Evette Squires, Ch. Joy Mario Mercedes CDX and D. Maxwell and Ch. Tatli Su’s Flying Tiger CD and Elizabeth Chidley. The second team was very good and the team got together only at the specialty for practice. Most of the members from the second team came the day before obedience and had only a short practice together. The second team was very good and the team leader Nancy Yost did an excellent job. The first team dressed in white pants and matching blue vest, the vests were made by Amy Moore and the second team dressed in dark pants with matching black shirts, their shirts were made by Diane Goodspeed. I for one enjoy doing the team and we all agreed to have our teams there next year.

It was almost 2:00 PM when obedience had finished and the obedience exhibitors invited the Judges to lunch. We all walked or drove across the street to Friendly’s restaurant for lunch and we got to know each other better and again talked about obedience training, different judges that we enjoyed showing for and some we don’t want to show for.

I feel this national Specialty was better than I have ever attended and I would like to thank the obedience exhibitors who when asked to attend said yes and took the time and spent the money to be there. Thanks also to Diana Goospeed who brought the jumps, our ring stewards who did a superb job setting jumps and the many things it takes to have the ring run smoothly, the people from ringside used for post in the team competition, which I’m sure for some being a post in the obedience ring may have been a new experience. I also want to thank Linda Allen, Lynn Lowy, Doris Marquez, The Brockways, The Leases, and Amy Moore for donating trophies for the Non-Regular Classes, and the Show committee who again this year changed to old clothes and cleaned the carpet after the banquet and set up the obedience ring.

Next year the National Specialty will be in the Boston MA area so if you were unable to attend this year, plan now to attend next year, it promises to be even more spectacular than this year. WE NEED AND WANT YOU THERE IN OBEDIENCE.

Deanne Maxwell, ALAC Obedience Chairman

RAFFLE

Carolyn Herbel. The ’96 Raffle was a great success, many thanks to all those who donated to the event. Don’t sit back now, because you need to start planning for that special donation to ’96’s ALAC major money maker. The more personalized and original the prize the more tickets we sell and the more cards that are played. I know that many of our members are very talented artists. In the past the items donated by these gifted people are the most sought after. If we get enough of these original donations we plan some additional intriguing options to win these splendid items.

Please all you talented people, help make Raffle & Lhasa stakes so alluring that we fill the Club’s coffers. Now is the time to plan that special offering.

ALAC UPDATE

ROSTER

Steve Campbell. As of July 1, 1995, ALAC has a new Roster Chairperson. Kenneth Troy has graciously accepted the position. I wish him all the best in taking over the Committee. Any member that has a change to their current listing in the new Handbook should forward the change on to Ken at the address listed below:

Kenneth Troy
29 Miller Road
Wayne, NJ 07470

SPECIALTY CHAIRMAN

Steve Campbell. The 1995 Specialty is over and although we do not have the financial completed, the Committee anticipates that the show will generate a good profit. The entry was exceptional, the banquet was a huge success and once again the Bingo game was a smash. I personally want to thank all the members of the Committee - Carolyn, Susan, Pat, Ann, Deanne, Don and Naomi. Also, without Bill & Sharon Russett working for us throughout this past year with the Holiday Inn, the show would never have been the success it was. I thank everyone involved. And now on to 1996.

Make your plans now for a June vacation in the fabulous state of Massachusetts. You’re all going to love the location. We have a wonderful judge in Barbara Alderman and the Merrimack Lhasa Club is having a Specialty show in conjunction with our National. The dates are June 20 and 21 for the National with the Regional on June 17 and 18. 1997 will be in the Seattle area. The judge will be Keke Kahn. Once again a great judge and site. We are going to schedule judging on Friday and Saturday to accommodate people travelling with a Saturday stay over, as well as having some time for seminars, workshops and sight seeing. If anyone is interested in helping on the Show Committee, let me know. We always need volunteers.

Until next time.

YEARBOOK

Amy Andrews. By now, all advertisers who preordered yearbooks should be in receipt of their photos and yearbooks. IF YOU DID NOT RECEIVE YOURS, CONTACT ME IMMEDIATELY as it is lost in the mail and must be traced.

The yearbook committee closed the 1994 issue with 91 ads, producing an income of $5,015.00 and expenses of $3,700.00. The employment of a new and better printer, and total "hands off" with the half-tone mounting and typesetting helped complete this issue well in the black. We showed an 18% increase in advertising, a 12% increase in income, and a 20% decrease in expenses. One hundred (100) copies were brought to the National Specialty and the remaining 200 from the order will be shipped to Yearbook Distributor Dot Prim. Shipping expenses have yet to be added to the financial report. I want to thank all of the Apso owners who advertised and supported the yearbook. Your lovely dogs will be a permanent part of history.

Awards Presentation chair Larry Bruton and I discussed the deadline conflict between our two committees and vowed to find an easier method for members with a limited number of available photos of their titleholder. The yearbook committee will be reviving a previously used method of inviting advertising on a MONTHLY basis. Each month, the AKC Gazette releases a prepublication list of titleholders to be featured in the upcoming issue. So, starting in September 1995, I will be sending a monthly mailing to potential advertisers. The requested deadline will be within 560 days of application receipt but the absolute deadline for late corners will be March 1, 1996. Since I will be able to lay out the ad and half-tone as soon as it’s received, return of the advertiser’s photo is almost immediate, "freeing it up" for use at the Awards ceremony should they choose. I hope this new method will be welcomed by and convenient for yearbook advertisers. As usual, the 1995 yearbook will be available at the 1996 National Specialty.

I also wanted to remind all advertisers: if there is ANY item on the yearbook application that is unavailable, unknown, or the owner wishes to omit, just leave it BLANK. Advertisers are NOT required to complete the application as long as all information enclosed is accurate to the best of the advertiser's knowledge. If you have any questions about this or any other issue, call me at 1-810-644-9194. Thank you all again for your devoted support of this ALAC committee.

Dear Editor,

I must disagree with the viewpoint held by some that our breed standard is vague and requires clarification (see President's message, June/July Bulletin). It is my opinion that our standard is in fact incredibly descriptive and absolutely precise in its brevity, requiring only that the reader have some basic knowledge of canine structure and the breed's country of origin. I would suggest that if there are those people who have trouble interpreting our standard to fit their personal image of the ideal Lhasa Apso, then perhaps they should consider reevaluating that image rather than tampering with a description that has served this breed well since 1935.

Unless, and until, the general membership of the American Lhasa Apso Club shows a clear understanding and respect for our current standard I feel it would be a mistake to open the door to any change whatsoever. The diversity of opinion and styles which exists in our breed today would demand substantial compromise in any attempted "clarification;" ultimately leading, I believe, to an expanded standard which would actually allow a much broader interpretation than is possible today. The 1978 "clarification" of our standard resulted in the loss of one of the two precise measurements provided us (muzzle length about 1-1/2"), as well as a change in the bite preference merely allowing for more variation within the breed.

Just because our standard is short does not mean it is not precise, so before you start trying to "improve" on it, sit down with your dictionary and a book on canine structure and do some research; you may be surprised at what you find out!

Nancy J. Plunkett

Note: The Bulletin will continue to accept letters from readers and we encourage you to write! However, please keep in mind:

- The Bulletin will not accept any letter that attacks any person or dog. Refer to the Bulletin Articles, particularly Article IV which states: "... thereby ensuring equality to all members of the Club; keeping all materials and advertising factual, unbiased and impersonal; preserving and protecting the history of the Lhasa Apso breed; and guaranteeing the membership a means of communication."
- The Editor and/or Board of Directors shall have the authority to accept or reject any and all forms of advertising and informative material; its sole criterion shall be the best interest of the Club and of the Breed.

In an effort to more carefully track Bulletin delivery, we are asking anyone who does not receive a Bulletin to please contact Ken Troy at 201/694-5618. It is periodically suggested that a significant number of Bulletins are not being received. We have no means of accurately accessing success or failure of postal delivery without hearing from every last person who does not receive copy. Our goal of more informative and complete ALAC information pages may eventually be able to reduce some of the separate ALAC mailings, but only if we are assured that each copy of the Bulletin is reaching its destination.

This issue updates the Breeder Directory and Business Card pages. Billings went out to members who subscribed to this advertising service, and it is suspected that many laid the reminder aside, renewal promptly forgotten! The Breeder Directory is $15.00 for the year; the Business Card page, $25.00 per year. Please send your renewal with check to your Editor.
Lilli finished in 3 weekends with 2 4-point majors and a 5 point major!

Thoughtful Fodder

Prior to the mechanized era man relied on animals as tools. Horses were the primary means of personal transportation and were an indispensable part of commerce. Rat catching with terriers was a worthy means of employment. Sporting dogs helped add wild game to the family table. Herding dogs assisted in managing the flocks and herds that fed the country. Hounds coursed, working dogs guarded, Non sporting dogs were functional and even the jaunty little toy dogs served their purpose as hand warmers, ratters and personal ornaments.

Today, however, automobiles, tractors, all terrain vehicles, fences, electronic alarms, and poisons do the same jobs. Consequently the fate of all domestic animals has been seriously affected. In less than four generations much animal knowledge has been replaced by mechanical knowledge. Children grow up learning the basic aspects of using machinery instead of animal husbandry. Now we routinely assess the characteristics of cars, computers, and other modern conveniences for efficiency and reliability. Lost is much of the knowledge necessary to recognize the characteristics proven effective in the animal as it performed. This is called type. Also lost is the knowledge of anatomical differences that made an animal functionally successful and reliable. This is called soundness. Previous generations learned about type and soundness from experience because they used these animals daily.

The loss of this knowledge has created a profound change in the way we view animals. People now have these animals mostly because they admire them not because they use them. They admire them for color, size, shape or coat in the same way they admire a painting or a sculpture. Too frequently today's fanciers select animals for breeding or exhibition based on personally pleasing characteristics with little regard for preserving traits important to the original purpose of the animal.

Did the Nez Pierce Tribe breed Appaloosa Horses for color alone? Did the Scottish people breed terriers that were short legged with a tremendous keel because they wanted them to resemble boats? Did Herr Dobermann select dogs that were the height of a man's hand as his arm hung at his side because he didn't like to stoop to pet his dogs? Do Tibetan dogs carry their tails over their backs because the Dalai Lama decreed it? Of course not. Each breed was developed using knowledge about characteristics that were necessary to perform a job or survive in a specific environment or both.

This knowledge of characteristics necessary to perform tasks is what the past generations fundamentally understood and what now we must study to recognize. Future generations may lose the ability to operate machinery in favor of some as yet unknown technology but they do not have to lose the knowledge of what makes a dog a breed. The challenge for our generation is to revisit this lost knowledge and through education and study, strive to preserve, as much as possible, the original purpose of each of our breeds.

Dalai promised her parents – canine and human – that she would go to the National pointed. She did. She didn’t promise us anything else but to try to be a good girl at the Specialty. She did that also. And, she went Best Puppy Bitch in Sweepstakes, pictured above!

Thank you Judge Margie Evans for such a wonderful win. Not bad for a ten-month Singleton. Look for Dalai at a ring near you.

Miss Pattie was honored to have been chosen for an Award of Merit at this year's National Specialty. Having turned a year old on May 27, 1995 and finishing her Championship the same day, this was the first time she entered the ring in the BOB class. What an honor for her to receive this type of recognition at 12-1/2 months of age. Her true potential has yet to be reached. Miss Pattie is now at home, having her well-deserved puppyhood and waiting to grow up so she can again be a STAR. Miss Pattie is proud to be her sire’s 40th Champion.

Bred, Owned and Handled by Roberta Lombardi
Ch. Rufkins Rock On Rocker

“DJ,” as he is affectionately called, finished his championship very quickly. He started winning from the 6-9 puppy class and just kept on going, gaining title several weeks after his first birthday. He is very special, much like his famous sire. He loves to show, is 11” tall, white, and has great hair!

Here is Oreo finishing his Championship at 12 months under Judge Bob Smith, going BOB over a Special. Oreo was handled to his finish by his owner Nan Damberg. His first major was at the LACNC Supported Entry at Sacramento KC, Judge Sam Draper, where he was BOW from the 9-12 Puppy Class.

Oreo is a lovely, sweet, charismatic dog of correct size. He is now growing lots more coat at Nan’s house.

Here's "Belle" finishing her Championship in grand style at Long Beach KC with Judge Roy Stenmark awarding her Best Of Breed over several Specials, handled by her new owner, Wendy Harper.

Belle has had a short show career, handled by her breeder Lynn and her very good friend, Dr. Michael Martin. Thanks to Judges Mrs. P. Cochrane, Roy Prado, Ronnie Ellen Fischler, Elaine Rigden (major), Elaine Whitney (major), and Larry Bruton (Mill Valley Best in Sweepstakes). She finished with 3 majors. Belle is a sweet, small, correct girl who has gone to live with Wendy to mature.

Remy and mom are seen here showing just what Ok' es are made of! Remy was Winners Dog for 2 points and Best of Winners, all from the Bred-by Exhibitor Class at the St. Joseph KC Show, under Judge Jo Ann Rogers. Thank you for rewarding our boy's soundness and quality.

FLASH!

Remy was WINNERS DOG and BEST OF WINNERS for a 3-point major, again from the Bred-by Exhibitor Class, at Shawnee, OK under Judge Maxine Beam.

Ed is seen here with Ok'e's best friend and right-hand, Juli Thomas (mom can be seen showing his littermate Remy), after going Winners Dog for his 1st point and on to Best of Winners and Best of Breed in Bartlesville, OK under Judge Fred Bassett. Thank you for a great start on our youngster! What a fall this is going to be — so stay tuned!

All of us here at Ok'e wish to send our love and prayers to the survivors and to the families of victims of the Oklahoma City bombing.

Breeder Education
by Esme Treen

Breeder education seems to be the topic of the day. There have been a number of national specialties in the last few weeks and almost all of them have offered seminars for judges. There haven't been any seminars for breeders, at least none which received any widespread publicity. Why?

Breeders blame the judges for the apparent lack of quality of their breeds. Judges blame the breeders for producing such poor quality animals. Judges need to be educated, the breeders say. Judges feel that many breeders have never read their own breed standards. This begins to sound like a chicken or egg conundrum and it is probably never going to be settled.

But if the breeders are not at fault, who is? Where are all these poor examples of breeds coming from? A judge is faced with a ring full of specimens that lack type as he/she sees it from studying the standard. Some of them are so unsound as to appear almost crippled. The animals certainly could not do the work for which they were bred. And many people feel that when a dog is unsound it loses type as soundness is a part of type.

There can be several different “types” within the same breed and they are all correct. They will fulfill all the requirements of the standards. One judge may like one type while another judge looks for entirely different type. Many of the current crop of breeders do not understand this. Their type is the only correct one. And sometimes their type may be the sort the judge in the ring likes but the dog is so poorly presented and groomed that the judge cannot do anything for it.

In the ancient past, at bench shows, newcomers to a breed were able to learn and discuss various aspects of breeding with the older, established breeders. Today, while there are some serious breeders who have been at it for a long time and know what it is all about, no one ever asks for advice. Some show their dogs and if they don't win they go home. They don't stay to see which dog went Best of Breed. And if asked why they didn't win they usually make scurrilous remarks about the judge. But they didn't have the sense to stay to see what type dog that judge likes.

A writer recently wrote in a breed magazine, “You have to admit, it would be refreshing to go to shows where people judge dogs against their original, historical standard!” Yes, it would be very nice to do this but too few breeders really know about the historical aspects of their standards. Some of the long time breeders know but they are so busy having fights within their parent clubs that they lose sight of the important part of all this, the dog.

Another writer in another publication stated that judges should come to breeders for education. Since this writer was from a group that is constantly at odds with each other how would a judge know which breeder's point of view is correct?

The judge is faced with dogs who have been bred by people who know nothing about structure, genetics, history of the breed and why they should look the way they should, and certainly have no idea of the knowledge to be found in a pedigree. Many unfortunately are breeding just to make a buck.

It is true that many parent clubs are trying to offer seminars for breeders. The successful ones have spent the greater portion of their time on health problems. Granted this is a noble cause. We all want healthy dogs. But it would help if some of the seminars actually presented information and know-how to would be good breeders.

One problem with breeder seminars is that many people refuse to bring dogs for breeders and/or judges to examine and criticize. The reaction is, “I don't want to have a bunch of people tearing my darling dog to pieces.” That attitude, itself, is a clue to the problem. There hasn't been a perfect dog yet. Would it hurt to learn how a dog could be improved?

There are many breeders who have been in a breed for a long time and who have consistently tried to improve with each and every litter and to learn. However, they are in the minority. The others are all “experts”. Most of them when they started were instant experts. They became experts when they signed the check to purchase their first dog.

Breeder education will never work. The breeders don't want to learn. They know everything already.

Kidney disease. We all remember hearing about it, don’t we. But it hasn’t happened to OUR dogs, has it? So we don’t worry about it. After all, if I haven’t had it in 20 years of breeding, it must not be carried in my line. This represents the thinking of almost everyone you talk to about kidney disease, except the few who have had pups die from it, and they aren’t talking at all.

The facts are frighteningly different from our perceptions. I recently contacted Dr. Ken Bovee, from the University of Pennsylvania, who had been doing research in this field for a number of years. I wanted to know if he had any advice for breeders regarding the inherited problem. His response was “Breed Labradors.” He went on to say that though he had accumulated a good bit of data, including a number of test breedings, when he submitted it to the statisticians, they were unable to establish the mode of transmission.

If you think the problem will just go away, and does not concern your dogs, you may some day have a rude awakening. It is possible to breed Lhasas for over 20 years without having a single puppy sick from kidney disease, and suddenly have an entire affected litter. I know of such a case in a previously unaffected line, which used mainly older animals for breeding, assuming that these were free of kidney pathology, having lived a long time in robust good health. Renal biopsy of one healthy male from a previous litter from this bitch also revealed evidence of the typical lesion. This dog will never become ill, because his kidneys are only minimally affected. This diagnosis could only have been made by biopsy.

The actual lesion of the kidney in familial kidney dysplasia is a failure of maturation of the fetal kidney. In the dog, all pups are born with fetal kidneys, but by 8 or 10 weeks, normal puppies kidneys have differentiated further and resemble the adult kidney. In pups affected with the familial kidney disease, parts of the kidney fail to fully differentiate. On microscopic section we find areas of fetal kidney interspersed with normal kidney tissue.

Sick puppies exhibit the well known signs of renal failure: failure to concentrate urine, resulting in large amounts of dilute urine, excessive water intake, vomiting, weight loss, failure to thrive. In older animals, early tooth loss, poor condition, malaise, poor appetite are additional symptoms. However, many animals whose kidneys are affected show no sign of illness, nor are their blood or urine tests abnormal. All young mammals have at least 4 times the kidney tissue they absolutely need, so that pups who have less than 75% fetal tissue appear normal and healthy often into advanced old age.

If familial nephrodiyplasia is inherited as a simple somatic recessive gene, we can analyze the frequency of the various genotypes in the population in the following manner.

Definitions:
K = gene for normal kidneys (dominant)
k = gene for familial nephrodiyplasia (recessive)
G = the frequency of the K gene
B = the frequency of the k gene
Since all the genes at each locus must add up to 100% (or 1.0), G + B = 1
therefore GK + Bk = 1

But each dog carries 2 genes at the locus concerned, so we have 3 possible genotypes,

- KK = genotype of genetically clear animals
- Kk = genotype of carrier animals who are biopsy negative
- kk = genotype of affected animals (biopsy positive) - an unknown fraction of these appear to be perfectly healthy.

In familial kidney dysplasia, the affected state is difficult to recognize unless the animal is clinically ill. We believe that this is the case very infrequently, since over 75% of the kidney must be non-functional before the animal shows any recognizable signs of illness or abnormal test results in urine or blood. Therefore, the matings involving this allele must be very nearly random. In random matings, when a male with possible genes K and k is mated to a female with possible K and k, the formula for the probable outcome is:

\[ G^2 KK + 2GB Kk + B^2 kk \]

If the frequency of the genotype of affected animals is found to be 1%
then \( B^2 = \frac{1}{100} \) and \( B = \frac{1}{10} \)
since \( B + G = 1 \), \( G = \frac{9}{10} \)

Substituting, we get:

\[ \left(\frac{9}{10}\right)^2 KK + 2\left(\frac{9}{10} \times \frac{1}{10}\right) Kk + \left(\frac{1}{10}\right)^2 kk \]

\[ \frac{81}{100} KK + \frac{18}{100} Kk + \frac{1}{100} kk \]

Thus the incidence of:
- the clear genotype is 81%
- the carrier genotype is 18%
- the affected genotype is 1%

Calculating gene frequency assumes 200 genes for 100 dogs, and would be the sum

- \( (81 \times 2) + 18 = 180 \) or 90% of 200 = frequency of the K gene
- \( (1 \times 2) + 18 = 20 \) or 10% of 200 = frequency of the k gene

The implications of these numbers are ominous. If we biopsied the kidneys of every healthy dog today, and found that 1% of them had actual evidence of kidney dysplasia, 18% of the entire population are carriers. Since the affected animals, (genotype kk) are probably recognized in only a small proportion of cases, the incidence of the affected state is probably greatly underestimated. The real number of affected dogs may be 10 or more times greater than the number who are discovered because they are ill from the disease. That means that if 1% of our dog population is being seen by the veterinarians because they are sick from kidney dysplasia, the actual incidence of the disease in clinically healthy, but biopsy positive animals, is probably closer to 10%. This would correspond to a carrier rate of about 44%.

If we had a reliable way of identifying the affected state, the kk individuals, and remove them from breeding, we could reduce the gene frequency by 50% in each generational cohort. For instance, If we started with a gene frequency of 50, that is 50% of the genes in the population were k, and 50% K and we discard all the kk individuals, theoretically we would be getting rid of one half of the k genes. The next generation would have only 25% k genes, the next generation, 12.5% and so on. By the 5th generation, the gene frequency would be down to 1%, and though it would continue growing smaller, the gene frequency would never reach 0.

Since an animal has to have less than 25% kidney function before routine screening blood tests show elevated levels of BUN and creatinine, we lack a reliable means, other than surgical exploration and kidney biopsy, of identifying the great majority of affected animals. Therefore we can eliminate only a very small percentage of affected animals from the breeding population. And because we are not breeding randomly, but selectively, we can inadvertently use an affected individual multiple times, increasing the pathologic gene incidence in the population.

Any plan to eliminate the disease depends on knowledge of the incidence and mode of transmission. So to combat the problem, we should perform histopathology on the kidneys of all animals who die or are put to sleep for whatever reason. We should also perform renal biopsy on all the close relatives of sick animals or those animals found, on postmortem, to have the typical kidney lesion. This will enable us to have some estimate of the incidence of the kidney lesion, something completely unknown now. Once we have this information, the mode of transmission, (dominant, recessive or polygenetic), may possibly be determined.

We badly need a non-invasive screening test which enables us to eliminate the affected animals which now go unrecognized. The greater the number of cases we make available to University clinics, the more likely that study may ultimately yield other screening techniques, such as radiological, ultrasound or radioisotopic. The future availability of such techniques, depends on the willingness of breeders to recognize the problem, and to bring their suspect animals for testing. Only you can eliminate kidney disease. Ignoring it will not make it go away.
